

identify landmarks...best if done orally:

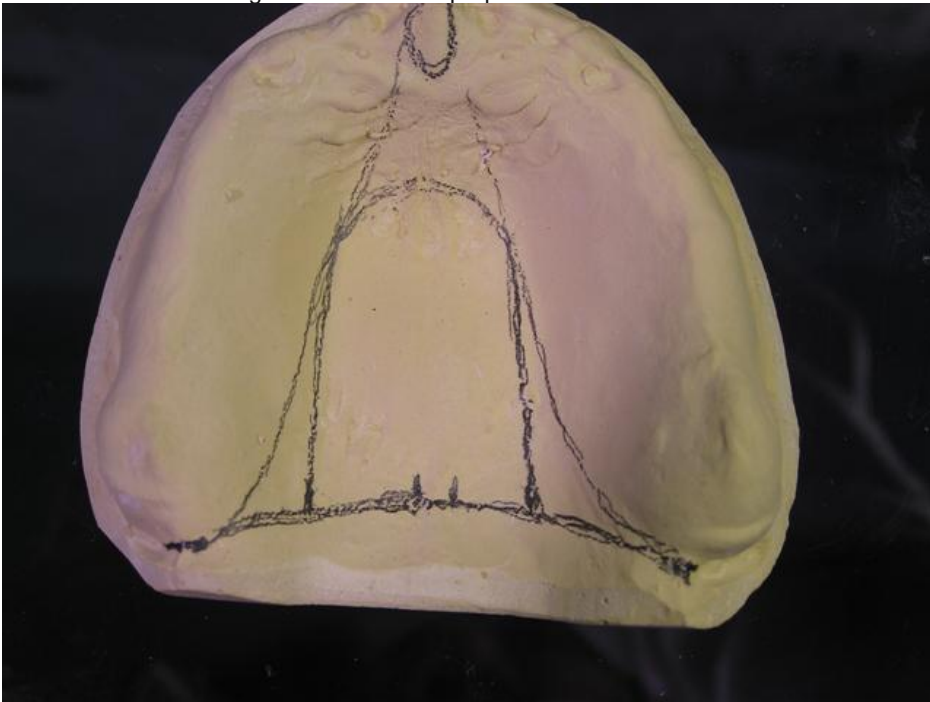

In the lab we use this general rule of thumb to find the soft juncture between the ridge and the hard palate:

set anterior border just behind the rugae:

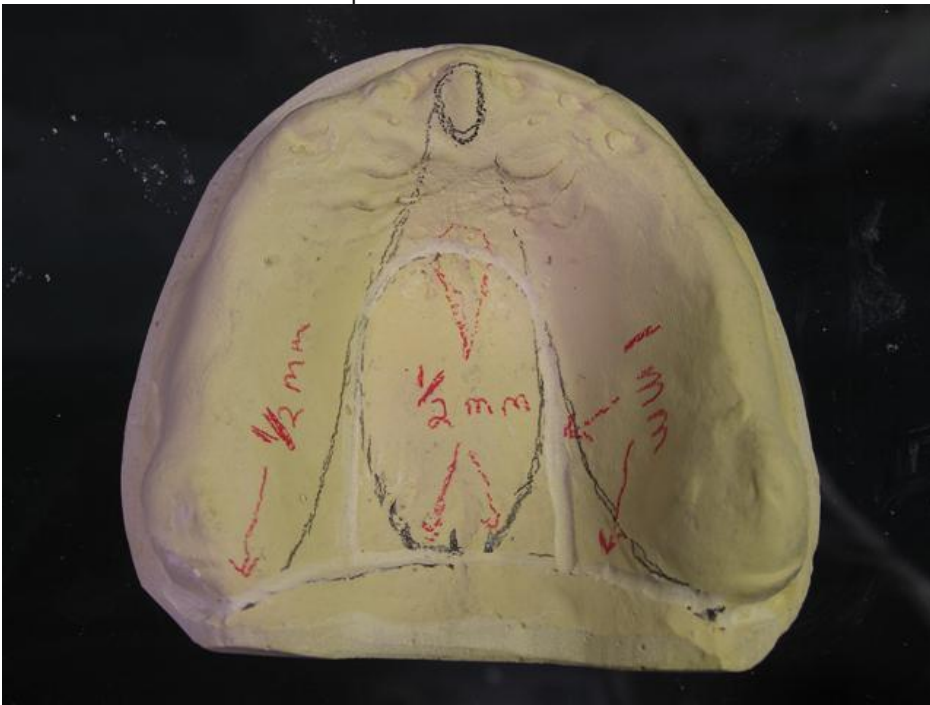

establish center of elongated bra with line perpendicular to distal border:

Mirror of external border of bra for internal border respecting any palatal tori present:

Bead the cast to the indicated depths:

Feather the bra from the depth of the bead to the borders:

Place a relief in the interior of the postdam. This is optional and not indicated on deep vaults and highly recommended on tori.
